Appendix A - Notes

1. Christian RECK , Sr.

The earliest known American progenitor of the RECK family in America. It is known that he emigrated to America in 1754 from the Palatinate or Württemberg sections of Germany where he was probably born. With him was his son, Christian RECK Jr. who was 16 years of age or older to have been on the ship passenger lists. There is no information as to whom Christian Sr. married in Germany or where there was any other issue. It was probably that he was a widower and his son was an only child.

ORIGIN OF RECK FAMILY

Historical Background

The first knowledge we have of Christian RECK Sr., the first progenitor of the family in America, appears in America, appears in official lists of ship passengers arriving at the Port of Philadelphia. Here Christian RECK Sr. is recorded as arriving at Philadelphia 16 October 1754 on the ship Peggy, commanded by Captain James Abercrombie, which came from Rotterdam by way of Cowes in England on the Isle of Wight. The lists indicate that the passengers were from "Wittenberg" and the Palatinate.

With him were a son, Christian RECK Jr, who must have been 16 years of age or order to have been recorded on the lists, and a George Michael RECK whose relationship has not been established but could have been a brother of Christian Sr. The same day these men swore their allegiance to the new territory in the Philadelphia court house. Three different listings for the same voyage were recorded, each of which show corruptions of name spellings, some undoubtedly phonetic, depending upon who recorded them as shown below:

Christianus RICK
Christian (X) RICK
Christian (X) RACK Senior
George Michael RICK
Jerg Migel RECK
Jerg Migel RECK
Christianus RICK
Christianus RECH
Christianus RECK Junior

Because the elder Christian RECK Sr could not write, he left his mark as shown in the brackets above on the various documents that required his signature upon disembarking from the ship. Christian Jr and George Michael RECK apparently could write.

In the course of research several other distinct and independent lines of RECK have come to attention which are existent in America today. Most of these, if not all, are descendants of other immigrants who came to America at various times after the 18th century bearing the same surname, some of which originated in Germany, Switzerland, Prussia, Italy, etc. They settled in various locations in America which had opened up by that time such as Illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin, etc, without any known relation to the older families. Even a review of German families in the file of the LDS Church at Salt Lake City has not indicated any relationship. Therefore, to avoid any duplication of research, a file has been maintained on these, some of which are reviewed in the Appendix at the end of the book as Unknown or Unrelated RECKS.

INTRODUCTION

There are several instances that are unrelated. For example, the name RECH and RECKS are misspellings of the name REX, an unrelated family. Nor are there any relationships with the name REICK, REYCKE, or REYCK. In isolated instances, RICK and RACK are misspellings of RECK but otherwise they are unrelated. On the other hand, the phonetic spelling "REK" was used in early church records of births and baptisms and, where used, is shown in the text.

The reference book "Genealogical and Personal History of Northern Pennsylvania" erroneously states that:

"The RECK family found in Adams County Pennsylvania, in 1799, descends from the Dutch family of REYCKE whose progenitor Christopher or Christian REYCKE settled at an early day in New Amsterdam (New YORK City). The name is found as RYCK, RYCKE, and REYCK. There are marriages and births under these names found in the records of the Dutch Church in New YORK between the years 1639 and 1730."

The church now claims there are no such records. Actually these RECKS are all descendants of Johannes or John RECK, the son of Christian RECK III who was the son of Christian RECK Jr. They are reviewed in Chapter 10 of the book, "The RECK Family History 1754-1982", by Paul A. RECK.

WHERE THEY CAME FROM

In trying to determine the origin of the RECK family in Germany, the etymology of the name was investigated by Michael P RECK of San Juan, Puerto Rico at the Bavarian State Library (Bayerische Staatsbibliothek) in Munich in 1977 who found that "RECK" is a version of an old German (Middle High German) word "RECKE" which originally meant "strong fellow", then "hero", "warrior", "wandering warrior", "knight", "adventurer", "giant", and curiously enough, "exile", "outcast", maybe because many exiles and outcasts took up the profession of wandering warriors. No RECK family histories were found which would lead one to believe that, because of the nature of the word "RECKE" being applied to the knights errant or wandering warriors, it might not be possible to pin down the family name to one area of Germany in terms of origins.

One family tradition is that the RECK family in Germany had a coat of arms. However, this is doubtful since the early use of coat of arms, in medieval days in Europe, meant that the head of the family was capable of bearing arms and had given service to his king. In America, coat of arms are of traditional interest only, and the use thereof can only be justified by a careful tracing of the pedigree to what arms one is entitled.

Another tradition is that our German forefathers came from the vicinity of Rechldorff in Germany. A town of Rechldorff has been identified located NE of Ebern, at about 49 degrees 53 degrees north and 10 degrees 50' east on the Itz River in northern Bavaria. It is not to be confused with Reckendorff which is south of Ebern. It has also been determined to be in the parish of Untermerz bach which appears on some maps of Bavaria. (9)

Unfortunately, no contemporary records have survived over the centuries which would prove the point of origin. Although ship passenger lists are authoritative records of German immigrants, contrary to instructions issued by the Governor's Council in 1727, ship lists for the Port of Philadelphia do not give names of places from which these colonists came but merely describe them as "Palatines" or "Foreigners". (1,2,5)

The generic term "Palatine" means anyone who came during the Colonial migration (and they were often all lumped together as a "shipload of Palatines" in the passenger lists) whether or not they were from the Palatine (German Pfalz) or one of its other names - Rheinbayern, the Rheinpfalz, Rhine Bavaria, or Rhenish Bavaria. Many "Palatines" came from Baden, Hessen, Wuerttemberg, Switzerland, and Alsace. (5 "1)

This broad definition of "Palatine" makes it even more difficult to localize RECK name. Today there are a number of RECK people in Germany but scattered and those contacted by Michael P BECK did not know of any relationship. (10)

WHY THEY CAME

In the book "Pennsylvania, Birthplace of a Nation", the author, Sylvester K Stevens, explains that Germans immigrated to America to get relief from political persecution, lack of representation in government, denial of right of trial by jury, involuntary military service, and lack of freedom of expression. In America, there was an compulsory military service, basic civil liberties were granted and there were economic advantages. Those who came were industrious farmers, artificers, men of trade, enjoyed and were fond of freedom and they believed they had a right of civility from all. Germany which was also a collection of principalities, each of which had a state religion with little sympathy which for any dissenters and they suffered from the ravages of the Thirty Year War (1616-1648), Germany also believed in the a basic dignity of man, capable of thinking for himself, and guided by his own conscience. (7)

*No records of death or place of burial are known to exist for Christian Sr. or his wife, Regina but it is reasonably certain they died and were buried in Germany Twp., York County, now Adams County, PA.

Second Obituary
Source Unknown

Elias OLIVER RECK, son of John & Mary RECK, was born in Carroll County, Maryland, the year 1836, July 31, and departed this life in Union City, Ind. May 14, 1906, age 69 years, 9 months and 14 days. About 44 years ago he left his native state and came to Ohio, and remained in this state until the time of his death. When the call came from his country for men, to take up arms and save the country, volunteered and thus he became a private, in Co. G, 8th. regiment, Ohio Volunteer Cavalry and served over three years, at which time he received an honorable discharge.

He was united in marriage to Miss Sarah A. HENNING Dec. 24, 1865. This union was blessed with eleven children, five of which preceded their father in death.

He was converted about 28 years ago and became a member of the United Brethren Church, later with his family united with the Reformed Church in Greenville, Darke County, Ohio, and when they came to Union City they transferred their membership to the United Brethren Church and he remained such until death claimed him. Brother RECK was a loved father and good husband. He ever rejoiced in the success and welfare of his children. The life he lived, speaks far better for him, than all men or the press might say.

He leaves to mourn, his companion, Sister RECK and two sons and four daughters; Charles RECK and Orell Curtis RECK, Mrs. Lillie Lecklider of Hamilton, Mrs. Etta WILLS, of Greenville, Mrs. Minnie BENNETT, of Union City and Goldie RECK who still remains with her mother, also nine grandchildren and two aged sisters who reside in Maryland with many friends.

The standing corn may remain until the autumn frost falls upon it, and soon it will fade, die and be gathered into the garner. The great problem is not that we die, but live to the good old age of Father RECK, almost 70 years old. But finally the determined reaper, with his sharp keen edged sickle comes and we pass one by one down through the valley and shadows out into noon day splendor and glory. Let us ready for we know not.
